Pucci 2015 spring/summer

The geometry of fashion:

Summer 2015 trends include bold, colorful geometric prints. Yes, it's very retro, which is also a trend (designers such as Emilio Pucci (pictured above: super model Linda Evangelista in a Pucci design, circa: mid '60s) and other top 1960-70s designers knew: color and patterns make bold statements. And, isn't that what fashion is all about? Pucci brings bright colorful patterns to its 2015 spring/summer line (bottom right).

Pastels work

Highlights take the pastel route for summer fun that also quantifies as office chic.

Bobbi Brown 2015

Bobbi Brown keeps it light with neutral dessert shades in her telluride Summer 2015 makeup collection: Shimmer brick (pink-bronzed shimmer stick, $49); Pot Rouge (fresh melon, Telluride (warm pink-purple) and Maui (coral pink); $29 each; Telluride Eye Palette (seven shades ranging from cream to smoky brown); Pink Dust Lip Trio (natural pink sheer lip color, sandwash tulle lip pencil, pink seashell lip gloss, $47) and Sunset Pink Lip (sunset pink sheer lip color, pink guava lip pencil, sunset lip gloss, $47). bobbibrown

Mario model

Mario, Tricoci's "Make Me a Model" contest is back.

If you ever wondered if you had that "look" it takes to be a model, now's the time to put it to the test.

The first competition is June 10, with seven semifinalists being selected, during The Wit ROOF Runway, at the Wit Hotel, 201 N. State.

The field is narrowed to five with by public vote and model performance July 27.

Five finalists announced during the "Glossed + Found Designer Reveal" cocktail party Aug. 19 (location TBD).

And the winner is....

The winner will be selected during the finale fashion show Sept 25 at Redmoon Warehouse, 2120 S. Jefferson. Tickets are $35. A VIP package is available for $95. For more details, visit mario-makemeamodel

Romantic notions

It might be the month for June brides, but designers are gearing up for Fall/Winter 2015. If a fall wedding is in your future, you really should have been looking sooner for the perfect dress. If you haven't not to worry designers are still showing new lines.

Monique Lhuillier, with couture fashion houses in LA and on New York's upper east side, is among the most sought-after designers. In fact, considered a celebrity designer, her name is synonymous with wedding gowns and red carpet formalwear with romance at the core of her creations.

Lhuillier, who has designed for celebrities such as Reese Witherspoon, Jennifer Lopez and not be dismissed Barbara Millicent Roberts better known as the world's most famous fashion doll— Barbie, was recently in Chicago for several shows (pictured to the far left is “Frost” and “Freya” inset) from Lhuillier's fall/winter 2015 collection.

Dare to go bold

From runway models to plus size it's patterns, patterns and more patterns.

Swimwear 2015 is saying "dare to go bold" with bright colors and patterns reflective of spring/summer 2015 fashion trends, including the retro geometric-theme carrying, which works for all body types.

The eyes have it

All the beauty experts is calling it one of the biggest makeup trends for 2015 . Fashioners.com calls the look in the top photo "60s style cat-eye. (top).

And blue, a big hit in the '70s, is back with a vengeance as seen on the runway at the Honor (lower right) show during New York Fashion Week 2015.
